Environmental Policy

The Maryland Aviation Administration (MAA), which owns and operates Baltimore/Washington International Thurgood Marshall and Martin State Airports, is committed to managing its operations in an environmentally responsible manner. This Environmental Policy is intended to foster environmental protection, stewardship and resource conservation at MAA.

To accomplish this, MAA will:

- ◆ Comply with applicable laws and regulations, provide resources and implement programs and procedures to ensure compliance,
- ◆ Promote best management practices and sustainability in design, construction and operation of facilities,
- ◆ Communicate environmental policies and progress to employees, tenants, contractors and the public.

The protection of the environment is essential, and MAA is committed to enhancing its environmental programs. It is part of everyone's job at MAA to work to continuously improve environmental performance and to reduce the impacts of aviation operations on the environment.
